The week in review:

Reading –the students all worked in small groups this week on reading comprehension skills. They also played some reading games that focused on different comprehension skills.

Science – The students did some small labs this week working with volume, weight, and speed/distance. They also completed the practical part of the NYS Science exam.

Math – The students played some review games this week covering different topics from the year. They also worked on some geometry, money, and subtraction with regrouping.

Writing - Students started to work on their research project this week. They have been reading books and pulling information out to use in their reports.

Word Study – The focus this week was on words with initial letter clusters – squ, spr, str, and spl. The test for this lesson will be on June 1st.

Disco Dance

All permission slips for the dance are due by Tuesday, June 1st at 3:30. There will not be any exceptions.

Yearbook Orders
